ABOUT ME

My name is Julianna Rosen and at the very core of my being I am an artist. I am originally from Northern New Jersey but am now stationed in Florida. I am an extremely diverse artist, dabbling in both digital and traditional art mediums. I am currently working on getting my BFA and MFA in Graphic Design at Savannah College of Art and Design. However, I have been illustrating and designing my whole life. I show my brand identity through bold strokes, risky moves, and creative end results. I am a collaborationist, I always prefer to work with a team. I enjoy the challenge of being a designer, we were all born with the ability to create but the ones who put time, energy, and patience into this journey are the ones who are truly admirable.
